Brief description containing the objectives of activity	To bridging the gender gap.
Detailed description of the outcomes of activity	One Billion Rising recently announced its 2023 theme and campaign: Rise For Freedom and to Create the New Culture . To commemorate the same theme and campaign, PG Department of Sociology collaborated with Sanjh Jagori , an NGO for organizing an interactive workshop on gender inclusiveness with an objective of bridging the gender gap. Three renowned and intellectually vibrant social impact leaders of the NGO Sanjh Jagori were the revered resource persons of this interactive workshop, i.e., Prof (Retd) Jyoti Seth, Head of the PG Department of Sociology, PGGCG-42, Chandigarh; Prof (Retd) Iqbal Judge, Head of the PG Department of English, PGGCG-11, Chandigarh and Ms Neeraj Aggarwal, Associate Prof (Retd), Head of the PG Department of English, PGGCG-11, Chandigarh.

Workshop was attended by 50 students and 15 faculty members. Convenor of the workshop was Dr Rimplejeet Kaur, Head of the PG Department of Sociology, SGGS College, Sector 26, Chandigarh. Resource persons showcased a documentary for shedding light on the problems faced by young women and actions that were taken by them to resolve those problems. Documentary visuals highlighted the narratives of women and these narratives were thematically constructed around a common problem faced by women. The major problems raised in the documentary were centered around gender inequalities and biases, i.e., the experiences of women with men, sexual harassment, safe public places and so on. A deliberate but thoughtful attempt was made to ensure that the visuals of each problem raised in the documentary were followed up by a live discussion with the workshop participants. These discussions spurred the participants to brainstorm and openly share their thoughts. A few participants also found strength to open up on their experiences on sexual harassment, especially eve teasing. The workshop helped participants understand that the need of hour is to awaken collective conscience on gender problems and eliminate gender biases that are posed to them in their routine schedules.
